

New from Luminare Press:

The Port Edgerton Chronicles

Is home where the heart is or where you're from?

Self-reliant artist Penelope “Nellie” Simpson, has made a place for herself in the New Mexico art scene, but when her father becomes ill she is forced to return to her hometown of Port Edgerton, New York. Penelope finds herself torn between her New Mexico life and the one she has found for herself back home when she falls in love with her high school friend, Peter Vandegelder. Things become further complicated when startling revelations of the town’s history begin unfolding around them. And, as if things weren’t tangled enough, a stranger shows up in town, whose dreams and aspirations may change the very nature of Port Edgerton.

About The Author

Brooklyn-born author, essayist, actor, performing songwriter, and three-time New Mexico Music Award winner, Gary Paul Hermus has spent a lifetime telling stories. He currently resides in Santa Fe, New Mexico, where he continues to write songs, stories, and essays.

First in series

Author: Gary Paul Hermus

- Small Town and Rural Fiction
- Women’s Humorous Fiction
- Romantic Comedy
- General Humorous Fiction
- Contemporary Women’s Fiction

ISBN: 979-8-88679-131-0

Format: Paperback, 5.5” x 8.5”

Publication Date: February 27, 2023

Pages: 370

List Price: $15.95

Contact Gary Paul Hermus at

garypaul@garypaulhermus.com

(505)660-5637

Leaving your childhood home to build a new life is a rite of passage. But what happens when you have to go back?